Modules & Tracks

Modules & Tracks

Law and Politics in Southeast Europe (Graz & Belgrade)

The Law and Politics track focuses on the political and legal systems of Southeastern Europe, with a particular emphasis on the transformation of the region over the past three decades, including post-Communist democratization, nationalism and ethnic conflict, and Euro-Atlantic Integration, in particular EU accession. While focusing on law and political science, the track takes an interdisciplinary and broad approach in understanding the complex transformation that has characterised the region in recent decades, examining cultural and social change. The law and politics track explores Southeastern Europe in a comparative perspective, considering both the variety within the region, as well as in comparison with others.
